

FAYETTE WELCOMES WAR HEROES THOUSANDS EXTEND GREETINGS

Beautiful May Morning Dawns with Clear Sky and Thousands from County and Nearby Cities and Towns Journey to Washington Aflutter with Flags and Bunting, Every Provision Made to do Honor to the Living and the Dead who Fought for Freedom.

With the dawn of day and the weather man smiling his hearty approval, the greatest celebration in the history of the city and county was launched today by the explosion of bombs and giant crackers in various parts of the city as the early risers aroused their neighbors to a realization that at last the great day of days had arrived and every man, woman and child was expected to lay aside everything else wherever possible, and devote the day to showing appreciation to Fayette's own.

By ten o'clock thousands of persons were assembled in the up-town districts enjoying the stirring martial music of the Fourth Regiment Band and the Washington Band, while awaiting the dedicatory ceremonies and address of welcome on the court house lawn.

By the noon hour the huge crowd had greatly increased and every hour was bringing additional throngs to the city for the afternoon celebration.

There was every indication that the earlier estimates that the crowd would number 15,000 during the day, would not be far wrong.

Memorial Arch, Dedicated to Fayette's Fallen Heroes.

As the crowds thickened as the day advanced there was a liberal sprinkling of khaki as the hundreds of soldier boys of the county mingled with their friends.

During the night much of the up-town was roped off so that the usual jam of automobiles in the heart of the city would not interfere with the thousands of pedestrians on the streets.

It was apparent from the arrival of the first trains that the crowd from adjoining cities and counties would be a very large one, and the influx of former residents was one of the marked features.

The Fourth Regiment Band came down from Columbus on the morning train and was at work promptly at the appointed time, winning hearty applause from the crowds as it poured forth the same stirring airs that it was playing on the Rhine in Germany only a short time ago. The Washington Band never played better and was given its share of the applause.

GERMANY IS PREPARING TO SPEAK LAST WORD

Count Rautzau is to be Present
the Reply of Huns Thursday
Sharp Division Among Delegates of Germany Seen.

(By Associated Press)
Germany's counter proposals to the peace terms of the allies will be completed by tonight and will be presented to the peace conference by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, tomorrow, according to Paris advices.

It is expected that the reply of the enemy representatives will be very elaborate and voluminous. The fact that the peace conference has been informed by the German delegation that no further extension of time is to be asked for would seem to indicate that the documents to be turned over tomorrow will be Germany's last word before taking a definite attitude toward the terms of peace.

Dispatches seem to reflect quite a sharp division of sentiment among the Germans as to whether the treaty should be signed.

It was announced last week that the terms to be presented to Austria would be considered at a plenary session of the peace conference today. Since that time, however, delays have been occasioned by the difficulty of framing the section of the treaty dealing with reparations.

A portion of the terms, however,

The defiant attitude of the German peace delegates regarding the peace terms offered them has caused General Pershing to order of the American expeditionary forces, to delay a trip to London until later. General Pershing has been in conference with Marshal Foch regarding plans of the allied armies of occupation should the Germans finally refuse to sign the peace treaty.

may be ready for presentation before the end of the present week.

While there have been rumors that the All-Russian government of Omsk headed by Admiral Kolchak is to receive recognition from the allies, there has yet been no confirmation of these reports.

It is indicated there are certain guarantees demanded as a condition to the recognition of the Omsk regime.

The weather is clear.

(By Associated Press)
Ponta Delgada, May 27.—With Commander A. C. Read confident that he would reach the coast of Portugal before darkness tonight, thus achieving the coveted honor of making the first trans-Atlantic flight, the United States seaplane N. C. 4 started for Lisbon today at 6:18 a. m., New York time.

The crew of the seaplane, which was the same as that which made the memorable flight from New Foundland to the Azores, boarded the plane an hour before sun rise but it was not until several hours later that the giant machine taxied out side the breakwater, headed to windward and rose gracefully into the air. She circled the harbor and then headed for her destination amid cheers from the crowds and shrieking of whistles. The din of the salute was kept up for several moments, the plane meanwhile speeding on her way and slowly disappearing in the bright eastern sky.

The weather was almost perfect this morning. Weather experts predicted that the plane might encounter cloudy weather and possible oc-

The average speed was in excess of 80 knots an hour. Navy Department officials expect that the plane will reach Lisbon about one o'clock, Washington time, this afternoon.

THE LEGISLATURE WILL PRESENT THE RELIEF BILL

Measure To Help Out Cities
Will be Voted on Tuesday
(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., May 27.—For a third time, the Legislature will vote today upon a bill designed to give emergency financial relief for cities and school districts.

Two such bills have been vetoed by the Governor on the ground that they violated the Smith one per cent law.

The new bill, introduced by the joint tax commission last night, makes a concession to the Governor in that it provides that the proceeds from the direct inheritance tax shall be applied to the interest and sinking fund of the deficiency bonds, which are provided for.

The bill also changes the date for submission of the proposed bond issue to a vote of the people from the November election to the primary election, August 12.

All Soldiers In Uniform Admitted Free

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick, Director of Press.

Ohio Always Leads.

Though it has been sometimes since the district conferences of Ohio club women reports are still coming in various roundabout ways concerning them. It is said that never in the history of the state federation have these district conferences been so successful. Perhaps this may have been due largely to the important problems coming before them with the signing of the armistice. Whatever the reason, the fact is that these district conferences in Ohio probably were not outdone in the accomplishment of club purposes by any other state in the union. It may not even now be too late to mention in a passing way a feature of the North east district conference at Ravenna. This was the scholarly and entertaining talk on "Japan and the Japanese," by Dr. Mendenhall. His description of country and people was especially interesting and club women who heard it have since had occasion to recall some of the forceful and significant utterances. Then, too, at the Middle East district conference at Steubenville the visiting club women were delightfully surprised to hear a son of Mrs. Jason Brooks of East Liverpool, vice president of the Northeast district. Lieutenant Robert M. Brooks, who had been at the front and was one of the first to be invalided home, was the hero of the Steubenville convention. Among the many interesting things he told about was the billeting of the soldiers in France, how the French had charged a penny a day to privates and twenty cents a day to officers for lodging or straw or hay in barns.

More Music Clubs.

Mrs. Warren P. Williamson, state chairman of music for the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, thinks more music clubs should be formed. She urges that towns with out music clubs — and there are many such towns in Ohio — organize one or more without delay. She asks this question: "Are you having community singing?" She wants you to write her. She will be glad to help organize for mass singing. If you are a member of a music club and belong to the federation she will be pleased to send to you musical programs for your work next year. If you are a member of a music club and do not belong to the federation she will be pleased to tell you of the advantages of belonging to the federation. Some of the federated music clubs have had a great deal of pleasure in the exchanging of artists. The following cities have sent entertainers to Camp Sherman from their federated music clubs during the past year: Hamilton, Washington C. H., Athens, Niles, Kenton, Fostoria and Oxford. Other cities are ready to send entertainers to Camp Sherman. It is very necessary for music clubs to report the names of their new officers and work being done to Mrs. Williamson, No. 1840 Market street, Youngstown. Mrs. Williamson would have every federated music club in Ohio send delegates to the state federation convention in Cleveland next October.

Study of Immigration.

Every club should devote one or more meetings to the study of immigration, the immigrant in the old home and the immigrant in America. See that your club library gets regularly "Americanization," a periodical published by the department of interior, Washington. It will send you upon request a list of remarkable books telling in detail the story of the immigrant. Club women should know about the foreign-born population of their own town. Who are they? Where do they live? What qualities or what talents are they bringing from their homes across the sea to their new homes here? Are they really having a chance to know and enjoy America and are they learning to love their new homeland? In some places clubs are financing an information center for immigrants, or furnishing a home teacher, or a community center worker. Write to bureau of immigration, division of work.

Good Work Goes On.

Following the signing of the armistice, and after the big surgical dressing class finished its splendid work in Marion, all materials left were turned over to the Adelphean club. This popular club since then has held all-day meetings to make surgical dressings for Marion's public health nurse, Mrs. Esther Mack, whose salary of $100 a month is paid by the Marion Federation of Women's Clubs.

Victrola Records for Soldiers.

Have you any Victrola records to send to Camp Sherman for the entertainment of the soldiers in the hospital there? Youngstown has sent 3,000 records. The Children's Carol club at Ravenna, Miss Lucile Weaver, director, donated $15 toward purchasing new records for Camp Sherman. Send records to General hospital, Camp Sherman.

FARM NOTES

Abundance of Spring Mushrooms.
Expected.

"On account of the wet weather, mushrooms are likely to be plentiful with the coming of warmer days," according to Prof. W. G. Stover of the College of Agriculture.

"The favorite spring mushrooms are the morels, which many people know as the sponge mushrooms," says Prof. Stover. "There are several species of these but all are edible and there are no poisonous varieties which are liable to be mistaken for them. They grow in the woods, often along small streams, and are also said to be common in old apple and peach orchards. The plants are from two to five inches high with a white stalk and a buff or light yellow cap which becomes darker with age. The cap varies in shape in the different species from the rounded, oval, or cylindrical, to conical.

"The distinguishing feature of the common morels is the pitted cap. The pits are deep, irregular in shape and separated by rather thick irregular ridges. Some of the stinkhorns resemble them superficially but they don't appear until late summer or fall and then odor serves to identify them.

"Cases of mushroom poisoning are reported in the newspapers every summer. Great care must be exercised in selecting mushrooms for the table. The beginner should try to become acquainted with a few safe varieties and leave all others alone."

Make United Effort to Oust
Common Barberry.

In an effort to stamp out the common barberry in Ohio, which causes great loss by harboring wheat rust, a cooperative campaign is being conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture and the College of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the State Board of Agriculture of Ohio. While it is declared that this kind of barberry will be a menace to the wheat crop so long as it is grown, no effort is being made to eradicate the Japanese barberry, which does not harbor rust.

Similar campaigns were carried on last summer in other states and as a result most of the common barberries of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and Montana have been destroyed. Most of these states now have laws against the growing of the common barberry.

GREAT INCREASE IN U. S. EXPORTS

April exports of the United States surpassed the previous high record by nearly one hundred million dollars, it is announced by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce.

Exports for the month totaled $715,000,000, as compared with $623,000,000 for January, the previous high mark. For March of this year the total was $605,000,000, and for April a year ago $501,000,000. For the ten months ending with April the exports were valued at $5,765,000,000, as against $4,884,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Imports for April totaled $273,000,000 in value, a gain of $5,000,000 over the $268,000,000 announced for March and a decrease of $6,000,000 as compared with the $279,000,000 for April of last year. Imports for the ten months ended with April are put at $2,474,000,000 as compared with $2,362,000,000 for a similar period in 1918.

YANKEE GIRLS TREAT AFFLICTED

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Algion, Gulf of Corinth, Greece, April 10. — Afflicted in hundreds of cases with the itch or other diseases resulting from poverty and exposure, Greek refugees from Trieste and Albania are daily arriving here. There are about 1,500 in the town. All of them were driven from their homes in Macedonia by the Bulgars and Turks. About a thousand are destitute and live in current warehouses which line the waterfront.

Three American girls, one of them a graduate of John-Hopkins University and another of Vassar, maintain a dispensary, treat a long list of cases daily and provide hot sulphur baths for the afflicted children many of whom have died.

American condensed milk has arrived from the American food ships which are discharging their cargoes in dozens of Mediterranean ports. American flour, hundreds of sacks of it is piled upon the docks.

The three American girls distribute the milk to about 700 children and adults daily.

Travel Days Mean Travel Ways

But no longer does one wrestle with travel troubles as in days of yore. The Leather Shop (Department) is the Mecca of the prospective traveler, for in it one may find the comfort of convenient bags and trunks and overnight equipment, with all the attendant necessary fittings. Above all else a wardrobe trunk assures an easy mind as to the condition of one's gowns at the journey's end.

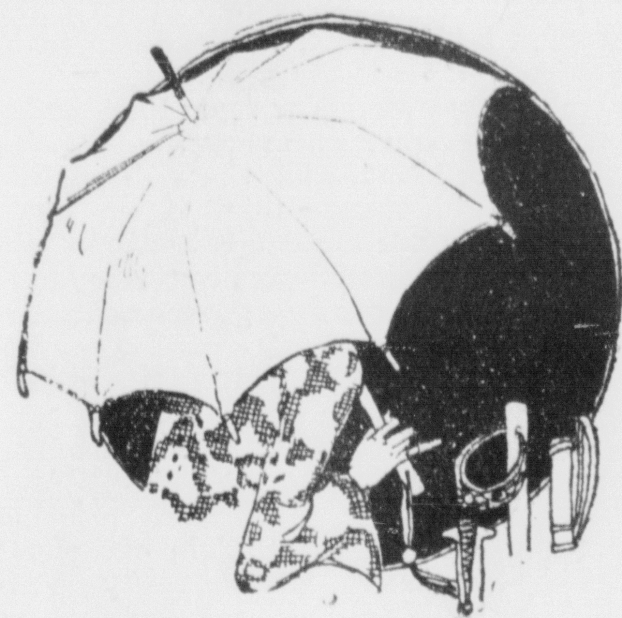

DISTINCTIVE BAGS FOR ALL OCCASION-WEAR

For what becomes the new spring suit or daytime dress is out of keeping with the frock of printed chiffon or Georgette one wears to luncheon and the matinee.

Envelope purses of fine pin seal or grain Morocco are more lined with mirror and purse inside; bags of moire silk have frames of silver, shell or hand-carved ivory, with small drop mirror and envelope purse in their shirred silk pockets.

Most popular of all is the decorative beaded bag, that comes in varying shapes and sizes, some patterned with conventional designs, while others are lovely with flowers or birds or landscapes in brilliant colorings, and silken linings that reflect the sheen of the finely woven beads.

And the novelty handles are short, with rings or cords or straps of leather to hang them from the wrist when not in use—for she must never be without her "Sun Umbrella."

The Fascinating Luxury of Furs

For wear through the Spring and early Summer. Scarfs, of course, in two and three skin models, made of selected sables, fisher fur and fox, silver, cross or natural blue. Capelets, too, stoles and collarettes of squirrel, Hudson seal and moleskin—all the cleverest of the many lovely fashions.

Beautiful Millinery at Saving

Dainty turbans, smart Sailor styles, Youthful Pokes, large Dress Hats and Close-Fitting styles—mirroring with marked fidelity all the chic and beauty of the costly originals from which they take their inspiration. Government

To the responsiveness of the government of the British Empire to the needs and demands of the people may be attributed, in great measure, the permanence of the empire and the loyalty of the people in every crisis.

One of Germany's greatest mistakes in launching the world war was the belief that the British Empire would fall to pieces under attack. The very opposite occurred and the empire was welded in closer union by war. Never has the government of Great Britain been stronger among the people who live under its dominion than it is at the present time.

What is true in that particular regarding the British Empire is equally true of our own nation.

Germany's mistake in attacking Great Britain did not teach her wisdom. With the same dull vision—the same lack of misunderstanding of the Anglo-Saxon—Germany persisted in forcing the United States into war under the mistaken belief that, under our free government, a revolt could be instigated.

The Anglo-Saxons amend, supplement or restrict their government as occasion demands. Their governments are shaped to meet the needs of the people. The Teutons make the government supreme and force the people to meet its demands.

The reforms which have occurred in our own government during the last two decades are really marvelous proof of the ability of the people to use the government for their needs. We accept these changes as a matter of course, but if one will compare conditions now with twenty years ago the change will be surprising.

Great Britain's government, too, conforms to the will of the people. The Anglo-Saxon refuses to build a huge terrible god government to worship and enslave him as the Teuton did and does. He builds an instrument to carry out his wishes.

Up to Congress Now

The request of Director General of Railroads Hines to Congress for an appropriation of one billion, seven hundred million dollars, in round figures, to meet the deficit incurred in the operation of the transportation lines of the nation, should convey some appreciation of the tremendous problem with which the Congress of the nation is confronted when it undertakes to return the railroads to private control.

That some radical changes will be required in the existing regulatory and restrictive legislation, both by the federal government and the several states and that many enabling acts will be necessary, to permit the railroads to function, usefully, under private ownership is apparent to even the most casual student of affairs.

Under federal control in the stress of war's necessities, enormous increases in the pay of the employees have been granted—some several hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

With the anti-trust laws set aside under government control, with pooling of facilities carried forward beyond the "nth" power dreamed of by private owners, and largely increased rates, arbitrary routing and side tracking of freight which the people stood for uncomplainingly in war time, yet there is a deficit incurred.

What will private control be able to accomplish even with legislative assistance and how will Congress assist by legislation?

Saved

Harry Hawker and his navigator, Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Grieve are safe. Such was the startling message flashed round the world on Sunday night. It came, a message from out the vast domain of mystery, the North Atlantic ocean, to thrill and bring joy to millions who had abandoned hope that the intrepid air navigators had been saved. As the seventh day, after Hawker and Grieve left the coast of New Foundland in their frail little Sopwith plane, was drawing to its close without tidings, good or bad, there were few indeed, aside from the brave little wife of Hawker, who had not abandoned all hope. At the close of the day, like a message from the great beyond, the sputtering wireless stations of Great Britain caught the message that Hawker and Grieve were safe aboard the destroyer Revenge and being brought to London to be hailed almost as men returned from the dead.

The incident is one of those which seems to prove that Providence watches over the brave with an especial care. The trouble which prevented the airmen attaining their goal was slight—a loose piece of solder in a water pipe. It was enough to bring disaster—a bit of "ill luck" which was matched almost at once with remarkably "good luck," the passing of a Danish tramp steamer in those isolated waters of the ocean. Lack of wireless on the little vessel prevented sending the glad tidings to an anxious world until a land station was passed.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE CAGED BIRD.

He saw the wild birds in the trees outside,
Watched them all wistfully and hungry-eyed.
For Spring—the mating time, the love-filled spring
Was in the air; and he was prone to sing
His sweetest notes to catch the lonely ear
And charm some mateless birdling that might hear.

He saw the uncaged dwellers in the trees
That swayed Ecstatic in the sun-warmed breeze,
He saw them fly away across the street,
And wondered if their freedom was as sweet
As his would seem to him if he, today
Were unconfined and fetterless as they.

He saw the free birds flit from twig to wire
On joyful wings that never seemed to tire.
He sang and flew his little brass barred round,
Exploring endlessly his puny bound.
His owner said: "A bird's so full of cheer!"
But "Set me free!" was all that I could hear.

LEGISLATORS FACE EMERGENCY RELIEF

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., May 27 — Emergency financial relief for cities and school districts was the outstanding subject before the legislature when it reconvened yesterday evening to wind up the work of the session.

Legislators faced the declaration of Governor Cox given to a delegation of Cleveland city and school board officials, bankers and chamber of commerce representatives that some sort of emergency relief must be furnished during the present session or that he would call a special session of the assembly.

The Governor also made it plain that any emergency relief furnished must not violate the principles of the Smith one per cent tax law.

He has vetoed the measures violating the Smith act.

Republican leaders declared today they are willing to compromise with the Governor on a financial relief measure to the extent of having all revenues derived from the direct inheritance tax applied to the sinking fund and interest of bonds issued to take care of deficiencies, but that the measure also must contain provisions for an additional tax levy on general property, to take care of interest and sinking fund charges, which the inheritance tax income may not be sufficient to meet.

This, they declare, is the extent to which they will yield.

The Crabbe prohibition enforcement measure is set for a vote in the House tomorrow. Leaders hope to be able to recess finally Wednesday or Thursday.

APPEAL MADE TO OHIO FIGHTERS

Columbus, Ohio, May 26.—Don't be a "Hun Cootie." Get an honest job.

A "Hun Cootie," by the way, is the name given to soldiers who attempt to commercialize their uniform by peddling about the streets.

The war department, the U. S. Employment Service and the Soldiers' Emergency Employment Committee, headed by Colonel Arthur Woods, special assistant to Secretary Baker, have issued this appeal to discharged men.

"Every effort is being made to offer honest employment to discharged men through those agencies," said a statement today. "All they need to do is to register at their local employment office or Bureau for Returned Soldiers. No effort will be spared to find them suitable work. It's a disgrace to the soldier and to the community to permit men in uniform to peddle about the streets."

Mrs. G. B. Franklin went to Columbus Monday night to hear Catharine Breshkovsky, "The Little grand-mother of Russia," lecture.

Mrs. Franklin has been giving a very interesting lecture on this celebrated woman before Woman's Clubs. At the time that Catharine Breshkovsky, was exiled in Northern Siberia. Mrs. Franklin was at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.

The girls of both Radcliffe and Wellesley became interested in the Russian heroine, and raised the money to fit her out with heavy woolen suits to keep her from freezing to death in Northern Siberia.

In order to hasten her death the Czar ordered that she be made to bathe every day in the coldest water—she was then 69 years old.

Her friends in America heard of it and the Radcliffe girls bought and sent to her a bath tub with heating attachments.

At the same time the most influential men and women in America, through the American Consul, asked that she might be allowed to use it.

When the Czar and the Governor General of Siberia saw such names as William Howard Taft, Nicholas Murray Butler, Jane Addams etc., at the head of the list this petition was granted and Catharine Breshkovsky soon recovered from the rheumatism that was slowly killing her. Catharine Breshkovsky is not a Russian peasant. She belongs to the nobility; her father and the Czar at one time were very near friends.

SHALL I SIGN UNDER PRESSURE OF COUNTRYMEN ASKS RANTZAU

As Time Limit Approaches End Impression Gains

That Hun Emmissaries will Sign Peace Treaty.

(By Associated Press)

As the day for the Germans to give answer to the peace demands of the allied and associated powers approaches—and the German plenipotentiaries have announced that they will ask no further extension of time beyond Thursday the limit set by the allies—there apparently has been no change in the sentiment of the German Government circles that the treaty should not be signed.

"Should I under pressure from our own misled country men sign this sentence of death," an utterance attributed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau head of the German peace delegation in reply to a question as to whether the demands of the independent socialist that the compact should be duly sealed comes up generally the state of mind supposed to exist in the higher walks of German political life.

Meanwhile allied commissions are preparing to hand to Austria and Bulgaria the treaties that are to be drawn up for them.

The Austrians who have been for some time at St Germain are chafing under the delay in being before the peace congress. The delay is declared to be mainly due to the settlement of conditions regarding reparation.

Dr. Reuner head of the Austrian delegation has appealed to Premier Clemenceau urging the hastening of the presentation of the peace treaty declaring the delay is creating a "regrettable strain" on Austria financially.

The belief is expressed in Paris that the allied and associated powers will exempt the new states formed from parts of the former dual monarchy from any payment on account of reparation or public property taken over by them.

The Council of Four is now engaged in thoroughly going into the situations of these new states.

Anti-Bolshevik factions in Russia headed by Admiral Kolchak and General Denikine are to receive conditional recognition by the Council of Four, according to a report in circulation in Paris. The condition is said to be that the Governments of these leaders are to convoke and accept the verdict of a genuine constituent assembly which is to determine the future form of government for Russia.

Such action by the Council of Four would enable the allies to assist in the struggle against soviet rule in Russia and furnished Kolchak and Denikine with arms munition money and food on a large scale than previously. No troops would be furnished the Anti-Bolshevik leaders according to reports.

TREASON CHARGE GROWS OUT OF BRIBERY SCHEME

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, April 20.—(By Mail)—An alleged attempt to bribe a prince and princess of Montenegro with $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 in order to induce the princess to intercede with the Grand Duke Nikolaievitch of Russia for a separate peace between Germany and Russia, featured the close of the trial yesterday of Captain Count Nayhaus on a charge of treason.

The bribery evidence was contained in deposition made by Minister Erzberger. Erzberger testified that he became convinced during the war that Nayhaus was intensely anxious to serve his Fatherland in some capacity. Questioned by Nayhaus how this might be done, Erzberger said he told Nayhaus to try to bring about a separate peace with one of Germany's enemies, preferably Russia. Anyone who could do that, Erzberger told him, would earn the gratitude of the Fatherland.

Nayhaus told Erzberger that Nikolaievitch was the only man through whom the plan might be accomplished, and that the only person who was not afraid of the grand duke was a beautiful former Russian grand duchess, now a Montenegrin princess. It would be necessary, however to gain the assent and confidence of the Montenegrin prince, who, at

YANK SOLDIERS FAMILIAR SIGHT

Island of Mytilene, Aegean Sea, April 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—No matter where one travels in Greece or Italy these days the American soldier is to be found. Here on this far-off infrequent island one would scarcely expect to see a doughboy but he is here. The Yank is becoming a familiar sight in the Near East.

In remote villages the traveler will find former west-front doughboys working for the Army Food Mission, the American Red Cross Balkan Commission, or on pleasure bent, visiting, with the permission of the army, the old folks and the boyhood home. On Mytilene island are Greek born Americans from several United States Army units. One is from Springfield, Ohio, and wears the Italian insignia of the Lion of St. Mark

FAYETTE HONORS HER WAR HEROES

Long Lines of Autos.

At an early hour the parking of automobiles on the streets left open was under way, and the long lines of autos speedily grew in length on all streets as the citizens assembled to pay homage to the brave boys who were ready to sacrifice all—and to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

Red "Victory" Feathers.

The red "victory" feathers which were distributed by the reception and information committees, soon made their appearance in the crowds, by the thousand.

The Camp Sherman military police in charge of Captain C. S. Jester, arrived shortly before nine o'clock and were immediately assigned to their posts of duty. They came by auto truck. It was speedily demonstrated that they filled an urgent need.

Soldiers Welcomed.

On all sides hearty greetings were extended the soldiers, and their uniform was the key to virtually any place in the city. They were the honor guests in every sense of the word and were made to feel at home. Everything possible to insure their enjoyment was done. It was "soldiers' day" in the fullest sense of the word.

Civil War Veterans.

The Civil War Veterans, just as proud of the work of the youngsters "over there" as they would have been had they been in the places of the young warriors in bringing victory, were given a place of honor on the court house lawn seats for the dedicatory services.

Pleased With Arch.

The huge Memorial Arch attracted general interest, and the long rows of wreaths placed about the structure, coming from loving hearts of the dead heroes whose names are inscribed on the bronze tablets of the arch, added impressiveness to the big memorial and to the ceremonies dedicating it to the 44 Fayette county boys who gave their all for the flag that floats over the memorial.

Those who had not previously seen the great arch were surprised at its massiveness, and beauty.

Dedicatory Ceremonies.

In the presence of a great crowd assembled on the Court House lawn, the dedication of the beautiful and appropriate Memorial Arch was impressively carried out, together with the War Savings Stamp bronze tablet which has been set in the walls of the court house as a permanent recognition of Fayette going "over the top" in absorbing her quota of War Savings Stamps.

The dedication of the arch was followed by a formal welcome to the returned soldiers, a great many of the soldiers being lined up about the arch during the entire services.

A Living Greeting.

On the tier of seats across the court house steps 400 children of the Washington schools were massed so that the word "Welcome" was spelled out in colors. The children were under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Sheen, with Mrs. Helen Kennedy and Miss Lorie King at the pianos. This beautiful and impressive spectacle attracted widespread attention, as did the childish voices lifted in song for the returned soldier boys.

Close friends of the men who gave their lives for their country, occupied the choice seats, together with the Civil War Veterans and Veterans of the Spanish American war.

Following invocation by Rev. W. B. Rose, chairman of the Fayette War Work Council introduced Hon. J. D. Post, who presided over the ceremonies and delivered a short address on "The People Back Home" in which he spoke of the work accomplished by the people back home, and their pleasure in once more welcoming the returning soldiers.

Mr. Post at the conclusion of his remarks, introduced Attorney General John G. Price, of Columbus, who

MONSTER CROWD TO EXPECTED TO SEE FIREWORKS

The fireworks display over the Hagler field, corner Main and Circle avenue at nine o'clock tonight is expected to draw a crowd as large as the afternoon crowd, if not larger.

No autos will be allowed on Circle avenue and Main street during this great display.

Throughout the evening the One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Regiment Band will furnish music from a lawn on Circle avenue.

REMOVE HATS

A beautiful and patriotic custom of removing the hat while passing under the Memorial Arch on the court house lawn, was inaugurated Tuesday morning, and it is urged that as long as the arch stands that every man passing under it, remove his hat in reverence of the brave men whose monument stands overhead.

PATRIOTIC TRIBUTE IN DECORATOR'S ART

The Frank L. Stutson Company added to the tribute of welcome extended to the returned soldiers Tuesday two superbly decorated display windows—triumphs of the art of the Stutson decorator, Sherrill Clark, and beautiful in patriotic suggestion.

The backgrounds of both immense windows was a field of blue, studded with silver stars, and prominent in the center an arching rainbow. Bordering the top was a freeze of gold oak leaves and a gold eagle held the badge of welcome. In one window stood life-like figures of soldiers and sailors in full uniforms and in the other were mounted victory statues.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MAKES RUN TODAY

The fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. Carrie B. Willis about ten o'clock Tuesday morning to extinguish a blaze which started, it is thought from a defective flue. The fire was extinguished with the chemicals and only small damage resulted.

The President must be glad now he took that trip to Italy when he Thurse, Scotland, May 26.—Harry Hawker and Lieutenant Mackenzie Grieve were warmly received today when they landed from a torpedo boat destroyer at the Scrabster pier, two miles from Thurse town.

LIQUOR BOARDS RULED EXTINCT BUT WILL RESIST

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, May 26.—The State Liquor License Board and all county boards go out of existence at midnight tonight, Attorney General John G. Price ruled in a formal opinion. The prohibition amendment, which becomes effective then, acts to repeal the license law and all laws built on the license amendment the attorney General holds.

Despite the Attorney General's opinion, members of the state Liquor License Board stated tonight they would completely ignore the opinion and continue to exercise the duties of their office.

They said they will instruct all local boards to continue also, until the State Auditor refuses to honor their vouchers.

In case the Auditor refuses to honor their vouchers, they said, they would bring a suit in mandamus in the Supreme Court to test the validity of the Attorney General's ruling.

CUBAN CATCHER IS REAL STAR PLAYER

AIRPLANE PULLS DARING STUNTS

The airplane from the McCook Field, Dayton, arrived right on the dot and after a number of loops above the city, dropped 3,000 feet in a nose spin and after circling about over almost to the roofs of the buildings giving the big crowds a genuine thrill. After putting on one of the best exhibitions ever seen over this city, the two flyers came to earth in the McLean field south of this city, and were preparing for another series of stunts in the afternoon.

FARM WORK KEEPS MANY IN FIELDS

Because of the urgency of corn planting a great many farmers remained at home at least part of the day in order to get their belated corn planting completed.

Many farmers, however, turned their attention to the great celebration.

However the bulk of them planned to attend the grand finale tonight.

OUR BOYS.

Hail to our boys of Co. M. Our Rainbow boys, we're proud of them; Nobly they answered duty's call, Were first to give their lives, their all.

To Mexico they first were sent, Then bravely off to France they went, In Flanders' fields some lie asleep, And for those boys we sadly weep.

And those that come back home again Forever will be honored men; The Rainbow is a badge of worth, Worn by our heroes on this earth.

We've other heroes by the score, Who also went to France's shore; Who fought for us on land and sea, Fought with the foes of liberty.

God bless them all our boys so brave Those lying, and those in their grave Our hearts o'er flow with love and praise, We'll owe a debt to them always.

LARGE CONCOURSE OF FRIENDS GIVE TRIBUTE TO MAN

Frank A. Chaffin, Attorney, Business Man and Public Spirited Citizen.

Borne to Final Rest After Appropriate Ceremonies Testifying Public Esteem.

A great concourse of people assembled at the First Presbyterian church Monday afternoon for the funeral services of Mr. Frank A. Chaffin, well known lawyer and prominent citizen.

The Fayette County Bar attended in a body as did the B. P. O. E. No. 29, both organizations feeling deeply the loss of a highly valued member.

The services were throughout most impressive and rich in tribute.

Rev. J. L. McWilliams opened them with scripture reading and prayer.

Miss Edith Gardner sang with much tenderness "Crossing the Bar," with Mrs. Davis at the organ.

Judge Joseph Hidy read a beautiful memoir written from his years of acquaintance with Mr. Chaffin. After recounting his life history and paying the tribute his life warranted from the standpoint of the public, Judge Hidy paid his personal tribute. The two men were born on the same farm, boy playmates and school chums together, spent many happy days on the farm together, studied and grew up in the practice of their profession side by side and the ties between them were very close.

Rev. McWilliams preached a strong sermon, taking as his theme, "Why Am I Here?" Under this head he presented the three great interrogation points of human existence—"Whence Do I Come?" "Why Am I Here?" "Whither Am I Going?" following with personal references to Mr. Chaffin as he had known him and known of him.

The Elks then conducted their impressive ritual service for the dead—the officiating officers: Esteemed Exalted Ruler, R. R. Kibler; Esteemed Leading Knight George Sheets; Esteemed Loyal Knight, Will Ford; Esteemed Lecturing Knight Guy L. Linton; Secretary C. A. Gossard.

Rev. David W. Barre, Chaplain, offered prayer and the lecture, an eloquent tribute to a prominent member of the order, to whom the duties and privileges of Elksdom were no mere prefatory interests.

Mrs. Winnie W. Shoop sang in closing the beautiful hymn of parting "Good Night."

A long line of autos filed to the Washington cemetery where the burial was made.

The active pall-bearers were Messrs. W. H. Dial, T. H. Craig, Hon. J. D. Post, C. H. Griffiths, Carl Mallow, W. W. Hamilton; honorary pallbearers Judge A. C. Patton, Messrs. H. H. Sanderson, Robert Howat, George Jackson, Joseph H. Harper, Charles McLean.

The flowers were in great number and beauty. Among the special designs:

Basket of roses, carnations and gladiolus, Washington Savings Bank; basket carnations and roses, Fayette County Bar Association; casket spray carnations, Imperial Degree Staff; pink snapdragons and fern Washington Matinee Club; casket spray of carnations and roses, Temple Lodge I. O. O. F.; American Beauty roses, I. O. O. F. Lodge of Hillsboro; floral clock, Washington Lodge of Elks; casket spray, Blank Book Company of Columbus.

The relatives and friends from a distance were:

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chaffin, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chaffin, Mr. Guy Chaffin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, Mr. C. C. Pavey, of Columbus; Mr. Loten Chaffin of Tennessee; Mr. S. W. Creed, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Creed, Cincinnati; Mrs. S. C. B. Howard, Hillsboro; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Leland of Springfield, and members of the Bar front Circleville.

PARIS ZOO LOSES PRIZED ANIMALS

Paris, April 22.—One hundred animals in the Paris Zoological Gardens died during the war. After a bomb from a German airplane made a big hole in the Rue Cuvier, alongside the gardens the authorities thought it wise to kill the poisonous snakes, lest they should escape and cause a panic.

Later the river Seine overflowed its banks and flooded part of the gardens and monkeys, antelopes and giraffes developed chest complaints and died. Only the waterfowl flourished, but Coco the baby hippo, the pride of the gardens died of ennui, they say as the gardens were virtually deserted during the war.

"Many people have blamed me for not getting married. Since childhood I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, never being able to get any medicine or doctor to help me. Now that May's Wonderful Remedy has entirely cured me, I am anxious to get a wife." It is a simple, harmless preparation, that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
